

3 - 4 OCTOBER, 2013
ELITE HOTEL, IDEON, LUND

ICT for Development (ICT4D) in China: Digital divides, empowerment strategies, and development discourses

A conference organised by the Centre for East and South-East Asian Studies, Lund University, in cooperation with the Institute of Journalism and Communication, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (CASS).

PROGRAMME DAY 1, 3 OCTOBER

- 9.15-9.30 Welcome speeches by Professor Roger Greatrex, Director of the Centre for East and South-East Asian Studies, and Professor Tang Xujun, Director of the Institute of Journalism and Communication, CASS
- 9.30-9.45 Introduction to the conference Marina Svensson

PANEL I: CURRENT WORK AND CHALLENGES IN ICT4D

Chair: Marina Svensson

- 9.45-10.15 The Swedish International Development Agency's work on ICT4D
Jens Karberg, Programme Manager ICT4D, Sida
- 10.15-10.45 Coffee break
- 10.45-11.15 Spider supported ICT4D projects in Cambodia: Strengthening Health and Democracy through Better Communication and Access to Information
Katja Sarajeva, project officer, SPIDER
- 11.15-11.45 Q&A
- 12.00-13.00 Lunch

PANEL II: ICT4D IN THE CHINESE CONTEXT: SETTING THE STAGE

Chair: Barbara Schulte

- 13.00-13.30 Dividing or Uniting: ICT-Use and Regional Economic Growth in China
Stefan Brehm, Centre for East and South-East Asian Studies
- 13.30-14.00 Legal Empowerment of the Poor (LEP) and ICT4D: Challenges and debates in the Chinese context
Marina Svensson, Centre for East and South-East Asian Studies
- 14.00-14.30 Q&A
- 14.30-15.00 Coffee break

PANEL III: ICT IN RURAL CHINA

Chair: Stefan Brehm

- 15.00-15.30 ICT for (Personal) Development in Rural China: Games, Videos, and the Emergence of Unimagined Users
Elisa Oreglia, UC Berkeley School of Information
- 15.30-16.00 Satellite antenna in a Chinese village
Sun Wusan, CASS
- 16.00-16.30 Transforming Healthcare Systems through ICT Innovation: Exploring the Potential and Barriers to Resident Health Card Project in Rural China
Jiang Qiaolei, Dalian University of Technology
- 16.30-17.00 Q&A

DAY 2, 4 OCTOBER

PANEL IV: NGOS AND ICT IN CHINA

Chair: Tang Xujun

- | | |
|-------------|---|
| 9.15-9.45 | Change Makers and New Media Technology: Introducing NGO2.0 and A Civic Hackathon Model
Jing Wang, MIT |
| 9.45-10.15 | Action Research on NGOs' Communication: Theory Construction, Interactive Capacity Building, and Emancipatory Use of ICT from Below
Bu Wei, CASS |
| 10.15-10.30 | Coffee break |
| 10.30-11.00 | Q&A |

PANEL V: MIGRANT WORKERS AND ICT: ACCESS, STRATEGIES AND USE PATTERNS

Chair: Bu Wei

- | | |
|-------------|---|
| 11.00-11.30 | Borrowing stage to perform: How Chinese migrant workers participate in the media representation of themselves?
Wan Xiaoguang, CASS |
| 11.30-12.00 | Grassroots NGOs for migrant workers in China: a New Working — Class Translocal Cultural Space linked by ICTs?
Wang Hongzhe, Chinese University, Hong Kong |
| 12.00-12.15 | Q&A |
| 12.15-13.15 | Lunch |

PANEL V (CONTINUED)

- | | |
|-------------|---|
| 13.15-13.45 | The Consumer and User as the Subjective: The New Generation of Peasant Workers and ICTs
Guo Yuhua, Qinghua University |
| 13.45-14.15 | Grassroots Media, New Media, and the Complicated Terrain of Media Empowerment for Domestic Workers in Beijing
Cara Wallis, Texas A & M University |
| 14.15-14.45 | Q&A |
| 14.45-15.00 | Coffee break |

PANEL VI: EDUCATION AND ICT

Chair: Jing Wang

- | | |
|-------------|--|
| 15.00-15.30 | ICT for Rural Education in Chinese Setting: Case Studies
Wang Ying, Institute of Distance Education, The Open University of China |
| 15.30-16.00 | Bridging the Digital Gap in China Education: Policies, Measures and Practice
Liu Meifeng, School of Educational Technology, Faculty of Education, Beijing Normal University, China |
| 16.00-16.30 | ICT for What Kind of Development? A Critical Synopsis of Chinese ICT Policies in Education
Barbara Schulte, Institute of Sociology, Lund University |
| 16.30-17.00 | Q&A |
| 17.00-17.30 | Conclusion and summing up of conference, introducing next conference in Beijing |